The Republican County Convention which The Republican Country Control of State and met at the Grand Opena House Hall at Eighth-ave, and Twenty-third-at has evening consisted of 304 delegates but four times that number of persons were present. These included many well-known Republicans. It was in every respect a representative Republican gathering. The proceedings were harmonious and the tieget agreed on at the caucus held at the same place on Monday evening was nominated by an almost unanimous vote. The only contest on the part of rival delegations was decided by giving each one half the vote that the district was entitled to. Under the surface there was a good deal of opposition to the renomination of Judge Sedgwick, but in the interest of harmony it was deemed best to accede to the wish of the cancus. It - as significant, though, that the nomination, when gnally announced after a long roll-call because of the failure to make it unanimous, was received in dead

The convention was called to order by Henry L. Sprague, who nominated as chairman Edward Mitchell, He was accepted by acclamation. Mr. Mitchell on

A notice of a contest was filed from the XVth District, and a five minutes' hearing was given to each of the contosting delecations, headed respectively by Robert (s. Greacen and Jacob A. Goodman. Finally, it was decided that a one-half vote be given to each delegation. General James W. Husted was seen in the hall and the chairman of the Saratoga Convention. Levi P. Morten was also invited to the platform and cheered. Then it was discovered amid loud laughter that a baldheaded delegate had been mistaken for the "Bald Eagle" of

to nominate the indiciary ticket, said:

I propose to present for your support as candidate for the sapreme Court a gentleman whom you will blacked with me is fally entitled tort. But before so doing I desire to say a word as to why I present him. It is known to you, gentlemen, that there was held in this building last evening a cancus of Republican leaders. The meeting was called informally and it was there arranged that nobody should be bound by his action there, not even as to his own action. It was also arranged that the results arrived at should be attained by giving each district or representative the vote which it is contailed to in the Executive Committee of the County Committee, so that the Republicans of the city might be fairly and equally represented. I was asked to present as the monitous choice of that meeting the Iton. George C. Barrett for he suppene Court. I present him as a sentleman whom the Republican party in the year 1871, in the midst of the reform movement consequent upon the Tweed excitement, took up without relevance to marty and parced on the bench of the Supreme Court. He has been there fourteen years nobely desired any motion, and so party dares to nominate a candidate agrifust him. to nominate the judiciary ticket, said:

John E. Brodsky then moved the renomination of Judge John Sedgwick for the Superior Court, saying:

I am pleased to see that a disposition has been shown within the past two or three years to take out of politics the Judiciary nominees of the county of New-York. I think above all that we should have a pure, upright judiciary and when we have upon the beach a judge pure and upright, who knows on the beach neither friend nor fee, I believe that the gentleman should receive the hearty support of all political organizations. I desire to present for nomination the Hon. John Sedgwick. Islicit applance and some hisses, I desire to present for nomination the Hon. John Sedgwick, Islicit applance and some hisses. I desire to present him as far as his judiciary career is concerned, not as a Democrat nor as a Republical service of the present him as the proposed of the second last segards political faith Judge Sedgwick is and has been nothing less than a Republican. (These smingled with derivive laughter.) So for as politics are concerned I present him to the convention as a Republican. The chairman asked if there were any other non tions. There was no response. Mr. Brodsky then moved that the nomination be made by acclamation. Several delegates objected. Mr. Brodsky then moved that roll of districts be called, and that the chairman of each cast the vote of his delegation. The charman poled that this could not be done. The roll call of dele gates must be proceeded with. So the secretary began the calling of the roll. It was evident before he had proceeded far that the nomination of Judge Sedgwick was assured. When the VIIIh District was reached, Alderman Bankson T. Morgan, under pretext of explaining his vote, proceeded to culogize Judge Sedgwick amid symptoms of impatience from the perspiring delegates. A delegate from the XVth District asked that his vote be recorded against Judge Sedgwick. Michael Cregan of the XVIth District also asked that he be recorded as op-Nyth District and assign that he did not think him entitled to the nondnation. A delegate from the XIXth District voted for George Bliss. The roll call showed that all the districts had voted for Judge Sedewick and the chairman amounced that he had received a majority of the votes cast. The amouncement was received in dead silence.

majority of the votes cast. The announcement was received in dead silence.

I Theron G. Strong was nominated for Judge of the Court of Common Pleas by Henry L. Sprague in a brief and judgelously eulogistic speech. The nomination was carried by acclamation.

Charles M. Knox presented the name of Granville P. Hawes for renomination as Justice of the City Court, as a "Republican judge who has made an exceptionally good record and who by his integrity, industry and faithfulness has won universal esteem and admiration. He nemination should be made by acclamation," Ethan Alien nominated for the second position on the City Court bench James W. Hawes, "a good Republican, an honest man and an excellent lawyer." Mr. Alien added that he had served two terms as president of the Board of Alderman without represels, "and a man who can do that can go through fire without being secorched." Samuel H. Randail objected, and in an energetic speech nominated Judge Pavid McAdam. Mr. Randail found nobody to agree with him in the convention twenty minutes. Mr. Haws was nominated.

George B. Deane, jr., nominated John W. Jacobus for Sheriff the a sulegistic speech, which was received with loud cheers, and the nomination was ratified without objection.

J. L. N. Hunt nominated Lewis S. Goebel for County Clerk, and this was carried by acclamation Ex_Judge Horace Russell nominated Thomas B. Asten for President of the Board of Aldermen, "as a man who has had large experience's city affairs, who has been tried in places which test ability and character, whose name has come to be recognized as a smoothed in the country of the discharge of his duties. "If it shall sometimes happen," the speaker continued, "by reason of the absence of him who is at the head of the city government, either in his Peruvian mine or in note-shaving, that Thomas B. Asten shall be called from time to time to exercise the functions of Mayor of Beeting of New-York, the people of the city will suffer no feet and be in no danger." (Cheers.)

Mr. Asten was unanimously nominated.

For Coroners James M. Varnum nominated George C. Kibbe; Edmund Stephenson John R. Nugent, and A. J. Dittenhoefer Ferdinand Edman. All were nominated by acclamation.

On motion of George Bliss it, was resolved that the Dittenhoesser Ferdinand Eidman. All were nominated by acciamation.

On motion of George Bliss it was resolved that the State ticket nominated at Saratoga meets with the cordial approval of every Republican and he hoped, that all Republicans would at lead the mass meeting to be held at the Madison Square Garden on Friday evening. Three cacers were given for the State and local tickets. The officers of the convention were requested to inform the candidates of their nomination. General Henry A. Barnom offered a resolution, which was adopted, resrecting "the defeat by the last legislature of the bills proposed by the Sanate Investigating Committee, of which Edward D. Thomas was chairman, regulating the price of gas in the city of New-York, and urging that the Republican party should elect officers favoring a just and reasonable law which will afford full protection to the gas consumers of this city, and to honest labor and honest capital."

The Republican County Committee held a short session last evening previous to the County Convention. When Chairman Edward Mitchell called the committee to order the large hall was denaely crowded. An amendment to the constitution was offered. It amends section 2, Article 3, and provides that if for any reason a voter failed to vote for the Republican electors at the election of 1884 it will be satisficent that he voted for the caudidate of the Republican party for State officers at the election of 1885 it will be satisfied in the next meeting.

SIGNING HIS OWN CERTIFICATE. A CLERGYMAN WEDS A MAIDEN WITHOUT HELP OR WITNESSES.

Within the last three years a curious romance has seen unfolding itself in a corner of the little village of Tarrytown. In one of its aspects it has given rise to legal questions which the heroine is now most desirous having settled. The said herome was born to humble station, but was fond of reading. By the time she was eighteen years or age she had read much. She was tall and slender, and attractive by reason of her intelligence. Withal, she was ignorant of society and its ways, except as the latter purported to be taught in the light literature of which she had imbibed deeply. Of the realities of life she knew little. Into Tarrytown came a dashing young clergyman of a peculiar type, who carried firearms and had shot at a tellow-student while at college in Virginia. He became interested in the girl, whom he flattered by his visits and attentions, and to whom he read his sermons for criticism and the "poems of their choice" for matual delectation. His visits grew more and more frequent. One evening he asked her to marry him. Regarding this as a joke, the girl said yes. Afterward he referred to this as a binding promise. His next step was to repeat to her a portion of the marriage service of the Episcopal Church, getting her to make the responses, telling her that it was merely a torm of engagement. Then he told her that they were married hard and

All this time the elergyman had been trying to get the girl to go to picnics and places of amusement with him, but in vair. She had never met him except in her father's house. Now he told her that they were married, but as his church did not wish a married paster, they must keep it secret until he was in a position to acknowledge her. They could, however, spend their vacation, together. The girl steadily refused to believe in the legality of the marriage. Then the clergyman filled out one of his marriage certificate blanks, signed it himself and got a firm of New-York lawyers to certify to the correctness of the document and the legality of the marriage. By alternately threatening to kill himself and her, he tried to make the girl sign it also. She would not, however. One day in a fit of anger he desroyed it before her eyes. Then he filled out another and got a brother clergyman to sign it, or else forged the name, and had still another law firm put the impriat of their approval upon its legality. He was again unsuccessful in making her sign this one, and it, too, was finally destroyed. After falling in these repeates attempts to make the girl aeknowledge the marriage, the clergyman gave up the centest and left the town. During the two years which have passed since, the girl has pondered the question, "Married or Single" until she is well nigh distracted. Legal experts consulted by father's house. Now he told her that they were the two years which have passed single!" until she pondered the question, "Married or Single!" until she is well nigh distracted. Legal experts consulted by her flatly contradict one another as to the law bearing or, the point, and she hesitates to appeal to the courts as she shrinks from publicity.

He kept the marriage a secret from the public, only his family knowing about it. Miss Schmidt's father is a tin smith and lives it comfortable circumstances. Lizzie is nineteen years old. Among her acquaintances was Chace, who paid her close attention when her husband was away from home. For several days she has been talking about paying a visit to her married sister who lives at Tamaqua. She packed her trunk and after bidding her friends good-bye she started for that place yesterday. Chace told his friends that he was going to Philadelphia on business, but in stead of going there he went to the depot, met Mrs. Bubb, bought two tickets for Reading, and he and the young wife started on their journey. By some means George Bubb heard that everything was not all right, and getting word that his wife was not at Tamaqua he made inquiries and found out that she had gone with Chace. This morning he started after his wife and ound the guilty pair in Reading. In a telegram to a friend he said that he had had Chace arrested.

THEASHING AN OPERA SINGER FOR JOKING. LEBANON, Penn., Oct. 20 (Special) .- In the play of "Chimes of Normandy" last night E. W. Mares a member of Hamersley's Opera Company, in a joking way made a personal allusion to Colonel A. Frank Seltzer, a prominent attorney and lecturer. The latter was present and took offence at the remark and at the close of the play demanded an apology. The young man however, failed to make proper reparation. Colonel eltzer followed Mares to the City Hotel, again cor fronted the sloger, and hot words followed, whereup the Colonel raised his cane and dealt his insulter severa blows across the face. Marcs was severely cut and ruised. This afternoon the actor appeared before Squire Kreider and had a warrant issued for Scitzer's arrest. The latter furnished ball.

GREECE PREPARING FOR WAR

PRICE THREE CENTS.

ATTITUDE OF PRINCE ALEXANDER.

SUBMITTING TO THE CONFERENCE-MILITIA OF BULA

GARIA SUMMONED FOR SERVICE. ATHENS, Oct. 20 .- The Government, replying to the latest remonstrance of the Powers in regard to the war preparations that are being made by Greece. says that a Bulgaro-Roumelian union would expose the Greek and non-Bulgarian population in Bulgaria to complete annihilation, and it is therefore impossible for Greece to remain passive when her vital interests are threatened.

The Council of Candia, the largest city in Crete, has voted in favor of a union with Greece, but the populace refuse to revolt against the Turkish Government before Greece declares war. The Grocks are wild with enthuse lasm. Thirty thousand men of the reserves have been enrolled in the last five days, and thousands are arrivingfrom all parts of Gresce, including Peloponnesus and the islands in the Ægean Sea. The people are clamoring for war.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 20.—The Bulgarian diplomatic agent here has informed the Porte that Prince Alexander submits entirely to the decision of the conference. Troops and war material continue to leave Philippopolis and Rustchuck for the Servian frontier. At a meeting of volunteer squadrons at Rustchuck it was decided that they would make any sacrifices to repel Servia.
PHILIPPOPOLIS, Oct. 20.—Prince Alexander has summoned the whole of the National militia of Buigarla and Eastern Roumelia for Immediate service in defence of Fastern Roumens for immediate service in decease or the country.

Mr. Lascelles, the British agent and Consul-General for Bulgaria, has left this city for Sopials. The tension is increasing and war with Servia is well nigh inevitable. Bulgaria has done her utmost to aver such a catastrophe.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—M. Christitch, the Servian Minister, in his letter to Mr. Gladstone yesterday, said he hoped the solution of the Roumellan question would include a plan for the preservation of the balance of power in the East and a union of Servia, Bulgaria and Greece against

DENMARK ON THE VERGE OF REVOLUTION. OPPOSITION TO THE ESTRUPP CABINET-RIOTS ES

COPENHAGEN COPENHAGEN, Oct. 20 .- The long-continued arbitrary policy of King Christian in refusing to dismiss the Estrupp Cabinet in compliance with a vote of Parliament and levying alleged unconstitutional taxes because Parliament refused to vote the Budget has led to a number of serious riots and imposing demonstrations in The people seem determined that their representatives in Parliament shall have some voice in the affairs of the Government and have become so threatening in their demands that the King has ordered the garrison of Copenhagen to be largely enforced. These popular manifestations are not confined to Copenhagen alone, but are general throughout Denmark. It is expected that a state of siege will be declared, and it is feared that a revolution will cusue if the King persists in refusing the concessions asked by Parliament. A number of political arrests have been made tending further to in-

A dispatch from Copenhagen this evening denies that there has been rioting in Denmark arising from the attitude of the people toward the King and Cabinet, or that a state of siege is to be proclaimed.

The trouble between the Government and the people is of thirteen years' standing, in which the lower house, the Folkething, has vainly persisted in its demand for the removal of the unpopular Estrap Cabinel. Its attempts to coerce the Government by refusing to vote supplies were holdly met. The King authorized the levy of taxes by royal decree, and dissolved the Rigsdag with a reprimand. This has since been done repeatedly, but each time a larger Radical majority has been returned to the lower house. In the popular branch of the Rigsdag, which met this menth at Copenhagen, here are scarcely half a dozen supporters of the Gov-ernment. The upper house has remained loyal to the King. Out of the methods of the Government in the struggle has grown a demand for a change to a Parliamentary system, which is resisted by the Crown by every means in its power. This is now the issue, During the last year the situation has been growing daily more grave, and it has been growing daily more grave, and it has became clear that the Government must either yield or face a revolution not only in the capital, but throughout the country. Everywhere the Opposition Left is in great numerical majority. The wealth, the aristocracy and bureaucracy of the country side with the Government. Many citizens have of late refused to pay the provisional taxes levied by the Government as illegal and have resisted the authorities in the attempt to levy them by force. A general movement by the Opposition toward sisted the authorities in the attempt to levy them by force. A general movement by the Opposition toward arming the people was checked by a decree denying to citizens their constitutional right to bear arms, and the sale of rifies was forbidden except to persons having license from the police. Meanwhile the loyal Right bought Krupp guns for the Government. Matters canninated a few weeks ago in the arrest of Mr. Berg, the Opposition leader and the President of the Forkething, for pushing the chief of police at Holsteine, a town in Jutiand, from the platform where Berg was addressing his constituents. The court sentenced him to six months, imprisonment for assault. At this the rage of the people knew no bounds. There is every reason to fear a fatal outbreak unless the Government yields.

GUARDING MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S HOUSE,

BURMINGHAM, Oct. 20 .- Seven hundred unemployed workmen in this city to-day marched to the house of Mr. Chamberlain. The Calef of Police, learning of their intention and fearing violence, sent a large force of police by a shorter route, and when the workmen arrived at Mr. Cuamberlain's house they found it men arrived at Mr. Chamberlain's house they found it surrounded by policemen. After a consultation three of the unemployed men were admitted to see Mr. Cham-berlain. They detailed their grievances and flatly accused Mr. Chamberlain of making a row with the wealthier classes to alienate sympathy with the suffer-ing poor for personal political argrandizement. Mr. Chamberlain refused to attend the meeting at the Town Hall in aid of the Distress Fund. The men then re-turned to their place of meeting howling against Mr. Chamberlain.

ROSS WINANS MOBBED AND STONED. EDINBURGH, Oct. 20.-The action of Ross mans, the Baltimore millionaire, who owns an extensive deer park in Northern Scotland, in closing a roadway on his property at Guisachau so angered the people in that vicinity that they mobbed and stoned him on Sunday. Mr. Winaus has offered a reward of £500 for the capture of the culprits.

SUING MRS. LANGTRY FOR HOUSEHOLD DEBTS. London, Oct. 20 .- The case of Mrs. Langtry, who was summoned to appear before the County Court of Chelses, for refusing to pay household debts con tracted while living with her husband, came up for a hearing to-day, but was postponed until November 3 at the request of her counsel, who pleaded that his client could not appear, owing to professional engagements which could not be broken without serious damage to the defendant. A number of dressmakers bills are among the items mentioned in the summons. Mrs. Laurtry says that her husband is responsible for the debts. Mr. Laurtry's friends state that he is quable to pay the bills, as the only source of means the has at present is an annuity allowed him by his wife on condition that he does not moiest her.
